Description Of Work:

Exceeded Expectations. Finished early and on budget!

A Pergola/Patio Cover was installed into our small backyard. They matched the existing curved concrete patio with a bi-level design that adds architectural interest.

Member Comments:

Combining great engineering with creativity, true artistry is born in the form of pergola (patio cover).

It is clear that Paul, the owner takes great pride in both his company and the work produced. The amazing crew was essential to the execution of the design. They ingeniously solved challenges that lead to superior results.

Although we could have gone with other companies we are grateful that we trusted our instincts and went with Paul and his face to face, classic way of doing business. It is his passion that spoke volumes and the results that back it up. Paul under promises and over delivers. They beat the time line and exceeded expectations. Our neighbors have commented on how it blends seamlessly with the existing architecture. It provides necessary shade for both the patio and the room when it is attached for those warm afternoons lowering our AC bills. It also completes the outdoor living space, making it feel larger and drawing people to it.
